How to use this premium edition

The original 365-Day Recovery Reflection Journal resource is preserved and followed by 6 new guided-practice pages tailored to a full year of optional reflection and monthly review.

Choose, do not complete

Start with the page that matches the present moment. Skip, pause or return later.

Use it with support

Bring a page to a counsellor, peer worker, healthcare professional, supervisor or trusted person when appropriate.

Test personal fit

Notice what changed. Keep, adapt, combine or replace an exercise rather than treating it as a rule.

Know the limit

This resource offers education and reflection. It cannot diagnose, provide emergency care or replace individualized treatment.

Safety comes before completing a page

For immediate danger, overdose, severe withdrawal or a medical emergency, call 911. In Canada, call or text 988 for suicide crisis support.

Before you begin

PURPOSE

This original educational resource combines plain-language information with fictional examples and guided reflection. It is not an evaluated or clinically validated intervention, and it does not guarantee an outcome.

YOUR CHOICE

You can skip questions, use a hypothetical example, write privately, and ask for support. Personal safety, culture, language, disability access, and practical realities matter more than completing every page.

SAFETY AND SCOPE

If there is immediate danger or a suspected overdose, call 911 in Canada or your local emergency number. For suicide crisis support in Canada, call or text 988. For medical, withdrawal, medication, legal, or individual treatment questions, consult a qualified professional.

KEEP IT PRACTICAL

Choose small, specific actions. If a tool is ineffective, consider another strategy, a safer location, another person, or professional support.

DAY 001

SAFETY AND BASIC NEEDS

There is no right answer. Choose a real or hypothetical response, or skip today. These pages are for reflection, not a score of recovery.

What does safety and basic needs mean to me today?

What comes to mind?

What would be a kind, realistic next step?

DAY 002

SAFETY AND BASIC NEEDS

There is no right answer. Choose a real or hypothetical response, or skip today. These pages are for reflection, not a score of recovery.

Which small example of safety and basic needs did I notice this week?

What comes to mind?

What would be a kind, realistic next step?
